News from Tarlton Properties of Menlo Park:

Tarlton Properties, Inc. (TPI), a commercial property development and asset manager, announced Intersect ENT has signed a long-term lease expansion for an additional 18,000 square feet at 1555 Adams Drive in Menlo Park. Intersect ENT now has a long-term lease on the entire building, totaling more than 50,000 square feet.

Intersect ENT (NASDAQ: XENT) is a publicly traded company dedicated to improving the quality of life for patients with ear, nose and throat conditions. Intersect ENT's mission is to advance clinically proven therapy solutions that enable ear, nose, and throat (ENT) physicians to solve clinical challenges and improve the quality of life for patients.

Intersect ENT's initial focus is chronic sinusitis, a condition that affects one out of eight adults in the U.S. and has a greater impact on quality of life than congestive heart failure or chronic back pain. Intersect ENT currently holds more than 25 issued U.S. patents and more than 85 patents and pending applications worldwide.

"We are excited to be in a position for robust growth in our company," said Lisa Earnhardt, president and CEO of Intersect ENT. "Our home in Menlo Park provides us with the space, amenities and location to continue to advance our mission of advancing treatment options for patients afflicted with chronic sinusitis."

"Intersect ENT is a strong leader in the growing life sciences community and, as such, we are proud they are thriving in our biotech and life sciences campus in Menlo Park," said John Tarlton, president and CEO of Tarlton Properties.
